

Mr. Prosper Komla Bissi, Senior Advisor, Agriculture, AfCFTA Secretariat

Mr. Prosper Komla Bissi is an Agricultural Economist with over 18 years of experience in international economic development. He specialises in investment programme planning, policy implementation for regional integration, trade promotion, and value chain development to boost exports and economic growth. He currently serves as Senior Adviser to the Secretary General at the AfCFTA Secretariat, where he leads strategies and partnerships to advance investments in agricultural trade and strengthen value chains. Prior to this, he coordinated the CAADP at the African Union Commission and served as Senior Trade and Market Access Adviser at AUDA-NEPAD, focusing on implementing CAADP's agricultural trade agenda with FAO support. His expertise reflects a strong record of driving Africa's continental food security and market integration goals.
