

Mr. Shinsuke OKADA,
Director for international cooperation
International Science and Technology Policy
Division,
Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology, Japan

Mr. Okada is the Director for International Cooperation at the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT), a position he has held since 2024.

After earning a Master's degree from the University of Tokyo, he gained work experience in a private-sector research laboratory before joining the Japan Science and Technology Agency (JST) in 2005.

Prior to his current position he has worked in various JST departments including industry-academia cooperation, public relations, strategic planning and management, and international cooperation.

His main focus has been on advancing international collaboration and promoting awareness of Japan's science and technology initiatives.
