

Ambassador Seyni Nafo
Africa Adaptation Initiative (AAI)

Ambassador Nafo has played a key role in advancing Africa's sustainable development, particularly in climate change mitigation, renewable energy, and resource mobilization. He currently serves as co-chair of the Green Climate Fund (GCF) for 2025 and is a member of the UN Secretary-General's High-Level Advisory Group on Climate Action. From 2016 to 2021, he was Mali's Presidential Climate Envoy. Since 2019, he has led the African Union's Africa Adaptation Initiative (AAI) Technical Support Unit. He is also Secretary General of the Adaptation of African Agriculture (AAA) and Goodwill Ambassador for the AU's Green Great Wall Initiative.
